TCO, CGT accepted into EPA's Star program

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency recognized Columbia Transmission and Columbia Gulf as new members of its Natural Gas Star Partners Program.

On hand to receive plaques for both companies was Lisa Carter, TCO Strategic Initiatives, Steve Wilner, Environmental Health & Safety, and Kevin Fortner, Environmental Compliance, Columbia Gulf.

The EPA program is a voluntary partnership between the agency and the oil and the natural gas industry to reduce emissions of methane through cost effective best management practices. Over 70 companies participate.
